RELIEF ARMIES CUT WAY TO STALINGRAD

BIG GERMAN LOSSES OUTSIDE CITY

HEWING their way through heavy German concentrations of infantry, artillery and tanks, Russian troops are steadily advancing from the north-west to the relief of Stalingrad, besieged by a million of Germany's crack soldiers. In one battle on this sector the Germans lost 2,500 officers and men.

In the city itself fighting continues for points of vantage, and yesterday the Russians succeeded in capturing some blocks of buildings of strategic importance, and, though the Germans claim to have reached the Volga at new points, Moscow denies that any considerable progress was made in any section of the city.

In the Caucasus the German advance has been held, and at Voronezh the Russians inflicted 1,800 casualties on a German regiment.

In the Leningrad area a wedge of German troops that pierced the Soviet lines was cut off and killed or captured. —(Reuter.)

STEADY RUSSIAN ADVANCE

MOSCOW, Sunday. — "Marshal Timoshenko, driving down from the north to relieve Stalingrad, has gained fresh ground in the last 24 hours, as the Russians inside the city fight to stem a new German thrust," says Reuter. "The Soviet High Command announced to-day that the Germans have forced a fresh wedge into the Russian positions at heavy cost. Soviet troops are mopping up German groups which have penetrated into their lines."

German losses in the week-end battles around the city are put at over 5,000 dead in addition to three battalions of infantry and 75 German tanks destroyed. Describing Marshal Timoshenko's advance, Red Star writes: 'In violent fighting Soviet troops broke stiff enemy resistance, and seized a strong point consisting of a line of blockhouses with anti-tank and anti-infantry obstacles. Over one battalion of German infantry and many machine-gun nests were wiped out. Prisoners and equipment were captured. Later the enemy launched a fierce counter-attack with tank support. This was beaten off with heavy losses to the Germans. Thirteen tanks were set on fire, and almost an entire infantry battalion wiped out.'

SOVIET ADVANCE

"In another sector Red Army men stormed and captured a strongly-fortified height, killing 200 Germans and knocking out six tanks, two armoured cars, fourteen guns and seven machine-guns. Twelve enemy blockhouses were destroyed. In a neighbouring sector in the north, after violent engagements, the units advanced and an enemy counter-attack was beaten off."

Another front line despatch says that three sanguinary battles were fought before the Russians scored their successes. After devastating fire from their mortars, the Russians went in tanks and infantry, and they captured the point some time and German dead lay on the battlefield.

"The second battle was for a strongly fortified tactically valuable height which the Soviet troops took in a sweeping frontal assault, despite terrific enemy cross-fire on the flanks.

"In the third action the Germans lost some tanks and left 500 dead on the field.

"Inside Stalingrad the garrison are pouring out in the shell-shattered streets and houses under the most difficult conditions. Marshal von Bock is flinging the Luftwaffe against Stalingrad in the most massive raids of the whole war. When the Germans fail to advance hundreds of bombers and fighters are thrown in as aerial spearheads to blast a path for the Panzers and infantry following behind. The German bombers now unload their entire cargo of bombs at once. While their aim is inaccurate, the explosions create terrific material havoc.

German ace pilots in the latest Messerschmitt fighters infest the skies above Stalingrad singly or in pairs, and attack Soviet 'planes or try to swoop on Soviet aerodromes.

STREET BATTLES

With hardly an hour's respite, the large-scale street battles sway to and fro in see-saw fashion. Streets change hands several times a day. House fighting goes on from attic to cellar. In some districts the position is so entangled that the Germans have been obliged to refrain from air bombing for fear of slaughtering their own troops. Nightly the Red Navy on the Volga goes into action, its gunboats pumping shells into the enemy positions, and escorting an uninterrupted flow of reserves, food and munitions across the river. Despite their air superiority, the Germans have been unable to cut this vital life-line.

"One heavy German tank attack was launched along one of the main arteries after a heavy air and artillery barrage. As soon as the bombardment had ceased the Russians clambered to the top storeys and roofs of buildings and showered the oncoming tanks with hand grenades and fire bottles. The tanks, unable to fire at such high angles were almost defenceless. Forty-two were knocked out before they could beat a hasty retreat.

"Soviet troops have recaptured several large buildings inside Stalingrad, says a front-line dispatch to-night. Yesterday the Germans gained no ground at all in the city.

GERMANS HELD

"In the area of Mozdok, in the Eastern Caucasus, the Germans are not making much progress in their drive towards the Grozny oilfields. Latest official reports show that the Russians have hurled back attacks by 60 German tanks and two regiments of infantry. Nine German tanks were destroyed and two companies of enemy infantry wiped out.

"In the Western Caucasus, south-east of the Black Sea port of Novorossisk, the Russians are also holding up a German push towards Tuapse, further along the coast.

"The Russians have gained some ground by counter-attacks in several sectors of the Mozdok front. In one attack an enemy battalion was routed, and in another seven German tanks were knocked out.

LENINGRAD FRONT

LONDON, Sunday.—Telegraphing from Moscow to-day, Reuter's correspondent says that General Von Leeb, throwing in infantry, tank, and aircraft reinforcements on the Sinyavino sector of the Leningrad front, launched a counter-offensive on Saturday. Due to numerical superiority in some sectors, a number of German tommy-gunners succeeded in infiltrating into the Soviet lines. The Russians repelled several counter-attacks in other sectors. On the adjacent north-western front Soviet troops succeeded in piercing the enemy positions and reaching an unnamed waterway. In a three-day battle on the west bank of the Don, south of Voronezh, the Germans tried to push the Russians back to the east bank of the Don, but failed to gain an inch of ground.—(Reuter.)

GERMAN CLAIMS

BERLIN, Sunday.—"The German war flag was hoisted on the headquarters of the Stalingrad Communist Party on Friday," claimed the German military spokesman to-night in an account of the battle. "In bitter street and house-to-house fighting further fortified blocks of buildings and pill box positions were captured. The Volga was again reached at several places step by step. The enemy offered bitter resistance, but was driven from one house after another. German bombers and dive bombers effectively intervened in the fighting. Wave after wave of low-level attacks were made on Soviet batteries, of which 33 were put out of action.

"Whilst heavy fighting continues inside Stalingrad, diversionary attacks of the enemy south of Stalingrad and against the German positions barring the approach to the city from the north, again failed.

"CLEARING UP"

The Berlin Correspondent of Dagens Nyheter stated: "The greatest portion of the southern part of the city is in our hands. No large-scale fighting is now taking place there, but this does not mean that everything is quiet. Every ruin still offers desperate local resistance, but altogether our task here is only cleaning up.

"The central part of the town is still the scene of the hardest fighting, but since the capture of six great Communist Party buildings on the bank of the Volga we have won a decisive advantage, breaking the backbone of the Russian defence in this sector. In the northern part of the city the hardest resistance centred around three enormous groups of factories, which had been transformed by the Russians into fortresses of incredible strength."

Other German claims in an official communiqué are :—

"In the north-western part of the Caucasus and on the Teren the enemy was thrown from deeply-echelonned positions, despite stubborn resistance."

"In an enemy attempt to cross the Neva on a broad front, more than 260 boats were destroyed and a number of prisoners taken.

SOVIET COMMUNIQUE

MOSCOW, Sunday. — To-night's Soviet communiqué states :—"During September 27 our troops fought fierce engagements with the enemy in the areas of Stalingrad, Mozdok and Sinyavino. During the week ended September 26 206 German aircraft were destroyed. Our losses in the same period were 156 aircraft. Our warships in the Black Sea sank an enemy transport of 2,000 tons."

The supplement to the communiqué states that Soviet troops are repelling furious German attacks in the Stalingrad area. In one sector, where the Germans made a slight advance, fighting is going on for every house. In another sector Soviet troops dislodged the enemy from a number of buildings and wiped out 600 Germans. North-west of Stalingrad Soviet troops repulsed enemy attacks and 2,500 Germans were killed.

South-east of Novorossisk Soviet troops occupied several heights and inhabited points. In one day 1,200 enemy officers and men were annihilated. In the Sinyavino area fighting, aimed at mopping up enemy forces which penetrated into our defences, continues. North of Voronezh our units entirely cleared the Germans out of a wood which had been stubbornly contested for several days. The Germans abandoned 1,673 dead. In one sector of the Mozdok area Soviet troops, under pressure of numerically superior forces withdrew from one inhabited locality.—(Reuter.)

GERMAN VIEW OF STALINGRAD

CONFIDENT OF SUCCESS

"We are confident of winning the battle of Stalingrad," declared Herr von Ribbentrop, German Foreign Minister, speaking in Berlin yesterday. He predicted "even greater efforts by Germany to prevent British and American supplies reaching the Soviet Union." He was speaking at a reception to mark the second anniversary of the Three-Power Pact.

"America's war was Roosevelt's own creation," he said. "He deliberately challenged Japan with unacceptable demands. Germany, Italy and Japan form a single unit, no part of which shall lay down its arms until the new order is assured

VOLGA LIFE-LINE

"The German people know that something great is at stake at Stalingrad. With the taking of this town—the link between North and South Russia, the Volga life line—our most dangerous antagonist will have suffered a blow from which he will never recover. When military operations end this year the Soviet Union will be in a most difficult position.

"In Russia an area of 1,600,000 square kilometres, equivalent to the whole of Germany, France and the United Kingdom, is already firmly in German hands. Two-thirds of Russia's supplies of grain and meat the whole of its sugar, and sixty per cent. of its coal has been seized. Russia has lost 90,000,000 inhabitants through our territorial gains. Her losses in dead, wounded and prisoners total about 14,000,000 men. Russia is nearing exhaustion in its man-power, food and raw materials.

"All British and American convoys to Russia have almost certainly been completely destroyed. Everything will be done in future to prevent any further supplies from reaching Russia from outside. Churchill has spoken of a second front. We expect attempts like Dieppe to be repeated —we are ready for them. Any attempt to create other fronts can no longer stop the increasing paralysis of Russia."

FRENCH CABINET SURPRISE

M. LAVAL INDIGNANT

A PARIS message to the German News Agency last night announced that M. Benoist-Mechin, Secretary of State in M. Laval's Government, had resigned. The news was followed by a statement by M. Laval, in which he said: "I shall not tolerate that the authority of the Government is attacked. I am fully determined to complete my task. This is more imperative to-day than ever. The Government stands firm, and there is no reason why it should not remain so."

"SUPPRESSED"

The dismissal of M. Benoist-Mechin was announced in a decree published in the Journal Officiel yesterday, says a Reuter telegram from Vichy. Signed by Marshal Pétain, the decree proclaims the appointment of De Brinon (French Ambassador in Paris) and Admiral Platon as Secretaries of State.

"The third State Secretariat under the chief of the Government being, by reason of this fact, suppressed," the decree adds. "Benoist-Mechin is no longer attached to the Government."

The French Cabinet, whose meeting on Saturday was postponed at the last minute, is to reassemble this week. The regular Cabinet meeting takes place on Friday, but last week it was to have been held on Saturday instead to enable Marshal Pétain, who was away, to attend.

In July this year Benoist-Mechin was appointed by M. Laval as head of the "Office of French Labour in Germany," the organisation which was intended "to assist workers who volunteer for work in Germany."

INDIA CANNOT HAVE WAR CONTROL

SIKH LEADERS BELIEF

Britain cannot entrust India with full military responsibility during the war, for Britain must concentrate on winning the war, declared Master Tarasingh, the Sikh Leader, at the third All-India Conference of Akali Sikhs at Waheela Kalan, Lyallpur, according to a Reuter telegram from Lahore.

"Our future largely depends on the power we develop during the war, he added, "as nations are born in war, and there is every chance of an Indian nation being born in this war.

PREMIER'S SOLUTION

India's political impasse could be ended by the formation of an Indian National Government, in which representatives to the Central Government would be elected through the Provincial Legislatures, Mr. Allah Bakhsh, Premier of Sind, told the Press conference in Karachi.

Mr. Bakhsh, who has renounced the titles of "Khanbahadur" and "O.B.E.," conferred by the British Government, as a protest against the British attitude, said that the Government could satisfy itself that those to whom they would be giving power, would be prepared to give the fullest support to resist aggression. If proposals put forward were such that real power was imparted and Congress did not agree, then Congress could be blamed, he said. "I have no doubt," he said, "that Congress has no sympathy whatever with either Germany or Japan"

DEATH SENTENCES

Five people were sentenced to death and four to transportation for life by the special judge at Nagpur, Central Provinces, for their part in the disturbances there.

MOTOR CAR LICENCES

REFUNDS BEING PAID

Refunds of licence money paid by Irish motorists who laid up their cars on April 30 are now beginning to be paid.

Many thousands of motorists who are still waiting for their refunds feel that they have been badly treated by the Government. "The Motor Registration Department told me that my application had been forwarded to the Local Government Department and payment sanctioned," said one ex-motorist. Letters and 'phone calls to the Local Government Department have all elicited the same reply—that the cheques were made out and envelopes stamped ready for despatch as soon as the Minister for Supplies gave his sanction.

Other annoyed motorists hold that they should not alone get their refunds at once, but also compound interest on the sums from last May. They also state that the sums paid for driving licences should be refunded as well

RAIDERS BUSY IN EGYPT

CAIRO AND TOBRUK BOMBED

GERMAN 'planes made a low-level attack with bombs and machine-guns on one objective in Cairo on Saturday night. A small fire was quickly extinguished. The only casualty was one soldier slightly injured.

Tobruk was attacked on Saturday night by Royal Air Force medium bombers, which pounded shipping inside and outside the harbour and port facilities. A column of black smoke was seen after an attack on shipping outside the harbour. A camp about ten miles west of Tobruk was also raided.

Continuing night attacks on landing grounds, South African Air Force light bombers raided airfields in the Sidi Haneish area. Violent explosions and several fires were seen. All aircraft returned from these night operations, despite intense and accurate anti-aircraft fire.—(Reuter.)

Fighters and bombers have been busy over the northern sector of the front harassing Axis communications and bombing his ports. Transport between Bardia and Tobruk was shot up by long-range fighters, and yesterday's communiqué from Allied Headquarters says that two Axis aircraft were brought down.

Frank Martin, Associated Press War Correspondent with the British forces on the Alamein front, telegraphing yesterday, stated—"I have just completed a trip along the forward positions from Tel Eisa Station, within one thousand yards of the German outposts, and found our forces well dug in, eager for another major "crack" at the Axis troops.

FIGHTING IN CHINA

JAPANESE GENERAL DEAD

It was officially disclosed in Chungking yesterday that Lieutenant-General Sakai, Commander of the Japanese 15th Division, was killed in street fighting in Latchi, Chekiang. General Sakai, who was fifty-three, was "recognised as the foremost communication expert in the Japanese Army."—(Reuter.)

Yesterday's communiqué reports that two Japanese attacks in the Provinces of Kwangtung and Hupeh were repulsed, and successful assaults on points in Northern Kiangsi.

An American Headquarters communiqué yesterday says that fighters of a United States Army air task force in China strafed Japanese truck columns on the road between Lungling and Chefang, in south-west Yunnan, on Saturday. Ten trucks and one staff car were destroyed without the loss of any of the aircraft.—(Reuter.)

ILLNESS OF THE QUEEN

It was officially stated from Buckingham Palace yesterday afternoon that the Queen has been confined to bed for the past week with acute bronchitis.

"While the Queen is making good progress towards recovery and there is no cause for any anxiety, the announcement said, "Her Majesty will be unable to resume her normal activities for the next three weeks."

The Queen was unable to return to London during the week-end, and the King spent the week-end in the country with her. The Queen, who is 42, has not had an outstandingly serious illness since childhood.

U.S. SHIPPING RECORD

Mr. J. G. Winant, American Ambassador to Britain, broadcast to his countrymen yesterday a message from Mr. Churchill, in which the British Premier said that of many wonderful examples of courage, resourcefulness and industry the war has produced, one of the most remarkable is the American shipbuilding programme. The completion of nearly 500 large ocean-going cargo vessels in 12 months is "a record beyond compare.

"Your countrymen have placed in service nearly 5,300,000 dead-weight tons of shipping during the year ending to-day."

U.S. ENVOY AT VATICAN

Mr. Myron Taylor, President Roosevelt's special envoy to the Pope, had one and a half-hours' talk with Cardinal Maglione, Papal Secretary of State, at the Vatican yesterday morning, according to Vichy Radio.—(Reuter.)

EXPORT OF RABBITS

The Minister for Agriculture has made an Order permitting the resumption of the export of rabbits from to-day, instead of October 1st.

DEFENCE FORCES PARADE

SALUTE AT G.P.O.

WINDING-UP the display of its mobility, co-ordination and striking power in its recent manœuvres—and after field Mass in the Phœnix Park—the Army yesterday afternoon joined in an impressive parade and march past through Dublin.

Divisional and Command units of the Army and L.D.F., Maritime Inscription, Red Cross and Voluntary Aid Detachments of the Red Cross took part. The salute was taken at the General Post Office by Mr. de Valera.

As airplanes roared overhead, files of glittering bayonets jogged in the sunlight through city streets, where a vast crowd had gathered on either side of the line of march. The people were silent as the regular troops passed in the panoply of full battle-kit, but they gave enthusiastic welcomes to the Marine Service and Maritime Inscription and the marching nurses. As people strained on the cordon-ropes of the Civic Guards and L.S.F. men, the tramp of boots, the purr of motors mingled with the music of brass bands and skirling pipes.

The parade began at several assembly points, and, after joining forces, passed by way of Camden street, through College Green, O'Connell street and Bolton street, and turned on its return journey via Dame street again. The full ceremonial of the parade was observed by the citizens.

At the saluting base was a guard of honour of three officers and fifty other ranks of the Maritime Inscription. Included among those who accompanied Mr. de Valera were :—Mr. Oscar Traynor, Minister for Defence; the Lord Mayor of Dublin; Mr. Ml. McDunphy, Secretary to the President; Mr. Frank Aiken, Minister for the Co-Ordination of Defensive Measures; Mr. Frank Fahy, Ceann Comhairle; Colonel L. Hoolin, Officer Commanding Eastern Command; Colonel S. McGoran, Colonel J. Joyce, Colonel S. McCabe, Major Charles Saurin and Major D. Lawler. The following members of the Defence Conference were also on the platform :—Deputies W. Norton, W. Davin, General Mulcahy, and Dr. T. F. O'Higgins.

THE MASS

The Mass in the morning was celebrated by the Rev. J. Fitzsimons, C.F. The Most Rev. Dr. Wall, D.D., Bishop of Thasos, blessed the colours, and was assisted by the Very Rev. R. J. Casey, Head Chaplain to the Forces, and the Very Rev. M. Sweeney, O.M.I. Lieutenant R. de Valera was in charge of the guard of honour. Sergeant H. Cummins was the soloist with the choir of the 2nd Division. Prayers were offered for the men who lost their lives during the manœuvres.

Among members of the clergy present were :—Very Rev. H. Lennon, Assistant-General and Visitor, Inchicore; Rev. M. I. Kennedy, C.F.; Rev. J. O'Rogan, C.F.; Rev. W. O'Riordan, C.F.; Rev. J. Callan, C.F.; Rev. J. Kelleher, C.F.; Rev. J. Kavanagh C.F.; Rev. J. McCarthy, C.F.; Rev. B. Kelly, C.F.; Very Rev. M. O'Ryan, Provincial, O.M.I.; Rev. J. Clarke, C.F.; Rev. J. Hardiman, O.M.I., and the Rev. P. Frawley, C.F.

The general attendance included :—Lieutenant-Commander and Mrs. O'B. Twohig, Colonel and Mrs. F. Bebbett, the Governor of Mountjoy Prison and Mrs. J. Kavanagh, General O'Duffy, Mr. P. J. Fogarty, T.D.; Mr. Sean Lemass, Minister for Supplies; Dr. James Ryan, Minister for Agriculture; Mr. Kevin Haugh, Attorney-General; Mr. Frank Saurin, Mr. J. McCann, T.D.; Mr. Sean Moylan, T.D., Secretary to the Department of Industry and Commerce; the Chief State Solicitor and Mrs. Corrigan, Colonel L. Archer, Major and Mrs. P. O'Higgins, District Justice McCarthy and Commandant Martine and Mrs. Martine.

FIGHT FOR CITY

While Dublin people went about their accustomed business oblivious of the struggle that was taking place on the outskirts of the city on Saturday afternoon, thousands of seasoned troops in a three-pronged attack were enveloping the capital, despite a determined resistance by the city and district forces of the L.D.F.

Over a wide area to the west and north-west of the city intensive fighting took place during the early afternoon as battalions of regular troops, supported by armoured columns and artillery, came to grips with perimeter defences. Probing with their mechanised forces, and then sending in their infantry with machine-guns, the regular troops rapidly immobilised the outlying pockets of resistance, which were dug into the fences so cleverly that their presence could not be detected until they opened fire.

The Irish Army to-day is as fit a force as training could make any body of men. Rough work is child's play to them, and no obstacle is too difficult to surmount. In one instance on Saturday a column of troops forded a river in order to envelop a village, and the manner in which the men, led by their officers, and with their chaplain among the first half-dozen, waded waist deep through the water with the support of a very thin rope, and then jumped into their positions, and were on the offensive, left one almost speechless with admiration.

There was a deadly earnestness about the whole exercise that conveyed better than any words an impression of the enthusiasm and devotion to duty of the men who have voluntarily undertaken national defence, and in spite of the umpires' decisions—very often questioned—it is extremely doubtful whether, in conditions of actual warfare, the fully-trained troops would have made the progress they did towards the capture of the city.

SERVICE MEDALS

The Minister for Defence announces that persons who are not in receipt of a military service pension, or in possession of a military service certificate, entitling such persons to a pension, must apply for a medal to the Secretary, Department of Defence. Such application will not be necessary from persons in receipt of a military service pension or in possession of a certificate.

MADAGASCAR FIGHTING

British forces on Saturday morning launched an attack against French positions south of Antananarivo after a violent bombardment, according to latest reports reaching the French Colonial Ministry, says a Vichy message. Previously there had been lively patrol activity twenty-five miles from the capital.—(Reuter.)

"A GRIEVOUS INJUSTICE"

CARDINAL MacRORY ON PARTITION

REPLYING to an address by the priests and laity of Kilmore in St. Patrick's College, Cavan, last evening, Cardinal MacRory said: "I sympathise most intensely with our people for the manifold injustice which a sister nation so long compelled them to endure, and for the crowning injustice under which they at present writhe owing to the mutilation of their dear motherland by partition. Partition is a grievous injustice against our whole nation, one of the oldest nations in Europe, but it is an intolerable injustice against Catholics doomed to live under the narrow and unjust domination of the Belfast Parliament and Executive. When I read, day after day, in the Press that this war is being fought for the rights and liberties of small nations, and then think of my own corner of my country over-run by British and United States soldiers against the will of the nation, I confess I sometimes find it extremely hard to be patient. I have had many a qualm of conscience as to whether I have not been wanting in my duty in respect of counsel and leadership. I have more than once kept quiet when I could have wished and was, perhaps, expected, to give a lead; but I desire to say here that my action, or rather inaction, in such cases was due to the fear that my intervention might do more harm than good. Clerical interference is not much appreciated in the six counties, and I would be very sorry to give offence to any of my countrymen of any denomination unless I could not avoid it."

MR. EDEN ON LONG WAR

Mr. Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary, told a meeting at Coventry yesterday :—"We will not tolerate this business every twenty years. This time we have to finish the job properly, and when it is finished to see that these people cannot start it again. That is the will of this nation and of the united nations. That is the job we have to do." No one could tell whether this struggle was going to be long or short, he said, and it would also be unwise to underrate the strength of the German military machine. It would be unwise to underrate the discipline and obedience of the German people, or attempt to under-estimate the effect of the Gestapo upon them. We must face this struggle in the expectation that it may well be long.

NEW GUINEA

ALLIED AIR ACTIVITY

SYDNEY, Sunday. — Australian patrols are keeping the Japanese constantly on the alert in No Man's Land around Ioribawi, in the Owen Stanley range, north of Port Moresby.

Constant probing thrusts of the Australians may be the prelude to a major engagement on the lower ridges of the Owen Stanley Mountains, after the necessary information of Japanese dispositions and strength has been gained; but, so far, the main forces are not engaged. The latest communiqué from General MacArthur's headquarters merely reports "no change."

One Australian force has taken over a new position in the advanced Allied line previously occupied by the Japanese.

The Allied air offensive is continuing its relentless blows against Japanese supply lines, shipping, and transport, from the supply base at Buna to their advanced positions in the Owen Stanley mountains.

A low-level attack on a vital bridge at Wairopi was carried out by an American pilot. A quarter of the bridge was destroyed in the attack, and large quantities of stores have been held up whilst it is being rebuilt.—(Reuter.)

DEATH CERTIFICATES

MEDICAL OFFICER'S VIEW

Fifty-three deaths, due to tuberculosis, were certified as occurring in the County of Laoighis during 1941. The Public Health Department was cognisant of 43 of these. However, as no medical certificate as to the cause of death was issued in 109 of the 716 people who died in this county during the year, some of whom may have died from this disease, the futility of drawing any conclusion from such figures is obvious.

The above passage occurs in the annual report of Dr. M. P. Crowe, Assistant County Medical Officer of Health for Laoighis.

Dr. Crowe states that, apart altogether from the harm done to statistical records, the opportunities for undetected foul play which can arise by allowing burial without first ensuring death from natural causes must be apparent.

TO USE FILMS IN TEACHING

Eire may soon make a start with using films for teaching, according to Mr. Oliver Bell, Director of the British Film Institute.

Mr. Bell, who spent last week in Dublin talking with educational authorities, members of the film trade, and of the Irish Film Society, in an endeavour to popularise entertainment and educational films for children, is happy about the results which he has achieved. His object is to popularise educational films for children in opposition to gangster and "Wild West" films. Criticising Eire for having been lax in this matter, he advocates special children's matinees, and has explained how this aspect of film work has been developed in Great Britain.

Stating (in London yesterday) that he is to return to this country in the new year, Mr. Bell says that he will show the authorities what is meant by an educational film. "I think we shall soon see an Irish Film Institute on the lines of the one I represent in Britain," he said.

SUBMARINE LOST

A British Admiralty communiqué last night states: "The Board of Admiralty regrets to announce that H.M. submarine Thorn (Lieut.-Commander R. G. Norfolk, D.S.O.) is overdue, and must be considered lost. The next-of-kin have been informed."

PLAN TO RETAKE BURMA

GENERAL WAVELL'S REVIEW OF ALL FRONTS

GENERAL Sir Archibald Wavell, Commander-in-Chief, India, said, in New Delhi, yesterday: "Ever since the loss of Burma I have been planning its re-occupation, because strategically it is one of the most important areas in the war with Japan.

"It is necessary for establishing contact with the Chinese, and we want a base for an attack on Japan itself.

"It is a difficult problem," he said. "I always find myself at the end of a supply line. Rommel's advance to Egypt and the threat to the Caucasus meant that supplies and reinforcements had to be sent, which put me back, but that situation has improved now, and we are getting the equipment wanted. The biggest fight this year is the fight for shipping. Japan sprang rather a surprise on us, as we thought they had trained on more orthodox lines and were not able to travel so fast or so light. The question is: what are the Japanese going to do? I think that like the boa-constrictor which swallowed a large animal they want to digest it. I don't fancy they want to take on anything big at the moment, such as the invasion of Australia or India. I think the Japanese Air Force will turn out to be their weakest point. They have got to keep a fairly large air force on the home front, also in Manchuria to watch Russia, and in the south-west Pacific.

"Sooner or later, in order to be the great Power in Asia, which Japan would like to be, she will have first to try to remove the Russian menace, and second to settle up the Chinese business. The heart of the problem is Russia, and this is a question affecting India

RUSSIAN CAMPAIGN

"Germany's hope was to put the Russian Army out of business this summer, as they did in 1917. Their idea would then be to refit during the winter in order to meet an attack in the West or to take the offensive. They would probably try hard to effect a pincer movement in the Middle East next year. But the Russian Air Force is going strong, and the Army is intact.

"The Germans will not have achieved their object if they still have an intact Russian Army to the north and in the Caucasus. The Russians may lose Stalingrad, but that does not alter the situation a great deal. I don't think it is going to be easy for the Germans to come down by way of the Caucasus now or next spring and capture the oil supplies of Persia.

IN INDIA

"I am satisfied with the situation here, although the disturbances while they lasted had a certain effect on the war front. But the important thing is that 70,000 recruits are coming in every month, and there has been no sign whatever of trouble in the Army.

"I have no doubt about the final result of this war," he added; "spirit and staying power will win. America, ourselves, Russia and China are going to fight to the end."—(Reuter.)

25 DEAD IN 'PLANE CRASH

MACHINE FALLS IN FLAMES

VICHY, Sunday. — Twenty-five persons were burned to death when an aeroplane of the Air France Line crashed near Blida, Algeria, according to an Algiers dispatch, says a Reuter message from Vichy. The aircraft, which was on the Algeria-Casablanca service, burst into flames while making a forced landing.

Later reports say the incident was caused by the loss of a wing in flight. Four of the 25 victims were members of the crew.

LATE NEWS

JAPANESE SHIP BOMBED

An official communiqué from Allied H.Q., South-West Pacific this morning states that in a night attack against shipping in Rabaul Harbour an Allied heavy bomber unit scored a direct hit on a 15,000-ton merchant vessel. When last sighted a column of heavy black smoke was seen pouring from the stern and amidships to a height of 300 feet ten minutes after the attack. The ship was the largest in the harbour.

An Allied medium bomber unit raided the airfield at Buna. Allied heavy bombers also attacked supply installations, barges and aerodrome defences. Fires were started.

FAR EAST OFFENSIVE

OTTAWA, Sunday.—Mr. Attlee, British Deputy Prime Minister, in a nation-wide broadcast to-night reminded Canadian listeners that "those who bear responsibility regarded the battlefields of the war as a unity. They are animated by a single purpose—that of winning the war."

Describing Stalingrad as "the graveyard of thousands of Germans," he predicted that "in time the United Nations will be able to take the offensive" in the Far East.—(The Associated Press.)

Japan was warned to-day by Kisaburo Ando, Chairman of the Third Central Co-operative Conference, to expect sustained U.S. air and submarine raids.

According to the Tokyo Radio, he said: "We must be well prepared for the time when United States bombers will fly repeatedly overhead and U.S. submarines will navigate freely near our shores."—(Reuter.)

SECOND FRONT

MR. WILLKIE'S CALL

Mr. Wendell Willkie told foreign journalists in Moscow on Saturday: "I am now convinced that we can best help Russia by establishing a real second front in Europe with Great Britain at the earliest possible moment our military leaders will approve."

"Russia," he added, "wants 1,000-bomber raids on Germany from England every night."

Mr. Willkie's official visit to the Soviet Union ended on Saturday with the dinner given by M. Stalin and other Soviet leaders. He left Moscow early yesterday for Chungking.

WASHINGTON, Sunday. — Commenting on Mr. Wendell Willkie's statement to the Press, the Washington Evening Star says that it further emphasises the unsatisfactory situation between Russia and the Western Allies over the second front. The most disturbing feature about all this criticism and these demands is that they imply short-sightedness, slackness and even bad faith on the part of the American and British Governments. "Such suggestions," it states, "are wholly incorrect."—(Reuter.)

YOUNG SWIMMER'S DEATH

After winning a schoolboys' swimming race at Tara Street Baths on Friday evening, Ralph Hall (14), of North Circular road, Dublin, collapsed and died from cardiac failure.

When the race was over young Hall caught hold of the rail, but fell back in the water, and after two of his companions had failed to bring him out, Mr. Kevin O'Doherty, the judge of the race, jumped in and carried him to the edge of the baths. Artificial respiration was fruitless. At the inquest on Saturday Dr. D. A. McErlean, City Coroner, said that the boy had an enlarged thymus gland, which was liable to cause sudden death.

STEP TOGETHER

The people of Dublin yesterday saw thousands of soldiers of our own Army parade through the streets of our capital city. Those magnificent men, tanned and toughened after months of hard training in the open, are the pride of our people. There must have been many men amongst the onlookers who wished that they also were in the ranks of the marchers trained and ready

FOR THE DEFENCE OF THEIR COUNTRY

There is room for them and they will be welcomed as comrades. All who are free to join should enlist NOW and be trained.

THERE IS NO TIME LIKE THE PRESENT

THE SOLDIER IS GETTING A RISE IN PAY TOO

It is pleasant to know that as from to-morrow the pay of Private Soldiers will be increased. Instead of 2/- the recruit will commence with 2/6 per day and the higher classes of Private Soldiers will receive the increase also. In addition, a further sum of 6d. per day will be put to the Soldier's credit (and to Non-Commissioned Officers' credit also) and the lump sum will be paid at the end of the Emergency.

JOIN THE ARMY NOW!

Men applying for enlistment in the Army should bring their Ration Books with them.

SWITZER & Co. Ltd. have been accorded the honour of

Entertaining the Troops

GAELIC GAMES

Owing to the Army and L.D.F. parade all senior Gaelic fixtures were postponed in Dublin area yesterday. At Drumcondra selected teams from Ard Craobh and Erin's Hopes met in a challenge game, the home team winning by 6-6 to 2-6. Neither side was at full strength, but the trial was valuable in view of the opening of the 1942/3 League season in October.

Cork Senior Football Final.—Clonakilty 2-8, Fermoy 1-5.

Four Favourites Win

EXCEPT in a couple of instances close finishes were the order at Leopardstown on Saturday, and the racing provided good entertainment for a fairly large crowd. The easiest win was that of Colonel W. A. Sheil's Doremi, who, going to the front approaching the last hurdle in the Monkstown Plate, never afterwards caused J. Brogan any uneasiness. A slow beginning spoilt Armillita's chance in the Ballycorus Plate, and she never flattered; while Nourrice, quickly away from the gate, led all the way. She was bought by Mr. Kerr as a yearling for seven guineas.

An unlucky loser was Vesington Call, who, in the Moniloe Maiden Hurdle, was last for a long way and, coming on the outside of the others at the bend to the straight, suffered a head defeat by the favourite, Blancairn. Acrostic, having the favoured position on the rails, led all the way to win the Glenageary Nursery. After Sarawaki had won the Glencullen 'Chase, D. L. Moore, rider of Pantry, lodged an objection for foul riding and crowding out, but this was overruled. Glenade and Pop fell. P. O'Keeffe, the rider of the former, sustained injuries which rendered it necessary for him to be sent to St. Vincent's Hospital for treatment.

Mel's Abbey won the Stepaside Plate by a short head from Whelan, and So Lovely's easy win in the Kilternan Plate sent backers home on good terms with themselves, she being the fourth favourite to score.

Rovers' First Victory

SHAMROCK ROVERS 3

SHAMROCK ROVERS, who yesterday beat Brideville at Harold's Cross by 3-1, gained their first victory in the Shield. They had Carey, of Manchester United, at centre-forward, but so feeble was the attack that in the second half Farrell (inside-left) and Carey changed places, and later on Coad (inside-right) took over the leadership from Farrell. It was only then that the Rovers really began to assert themselves. From a pass by Comerford, who scored Rovers' first goal ten minutes after the start of the opening half, Delany headed through the second (35 mins.), the score being followed immediately by the third from Carey. Nearing the end Wilton netted for Brideville.

Rovers never settled down to first-class football. The defence, with Harris back again in the middle line, was steady enough, but the forwards, except the enterprising Comerford, were at sixes and sevens until late in the second half. Then Webster, in as many minutes, saved three shots that looked like yielding goals, and that Brideville had not a few additional scored against them was due to the excellence of his goalkeeping. The home defence was more rugged than skilful, and with Flynn completely subdued by Bryson, the forwards had little scope. As a matter of fact, Palmer had an easy match of it in the Rovers' goal. Crowe, Landers brought off a thrilling save from a penalty kick taken by Fallon, one of several which he effected in each half; but it was the stonewall defence of the full-backs and the centre half-back, Byrne, that nullified the persistent attacks of Shelbourne, in whose front line Kennedy, Gannon and Hayden were most conspicuous. Horlacher, for years a sturdy and reliable half-back has been deputising for Kerr, and in the position excelled himself by an inspiring display. Indeed, the entire defence held their own splendidly in a fast game, in which, however, neither forward line distinguished itself.

Cork Result.—Cork United 9, Munster Selected 1.

DUNDALK TAKE LEAD

LIMERICK ...... 0 DUNDALK 1

In an unexciting Shield at Limerick yesterday Dundalk defeated Limerick by 1 goal to nil, but the narrow victory was sufficient to send them to the head of the table. The winning goal came only a few minutes from time, when Lavery beat Harrington with a good shot. Limerick, who had an equal share of the exchanges, were worth a division of the points, but their forwards were very weak. It was the same with Dundalk's attack, which was well held by a grand home defence, in which T. Aherne, J. Hartrey, and Keane were outstanding.

DRAW AT CRUMLIN

Injuries to two of their key players—Martin, centre-half, and O'Brien, right-half—deprived Drumcondra of any opportunity they may have had of beating St. James's Gate at Iveagh grounds yesterday. For the entire second half the visitors played with nine men. McNamara, McGlynn, and Dyer doing great work. The match ended in a draw, 2-2.

At half time the Gate, who all through played disappointingly, led by 1-0, Matthews being the scorer. He again scored in the second half, but Drumcondra never gave up, despite their depleted team, and were rewarded by a draw, O'Rourke, from a penalty, and McNamara netting.

FIRST DEFEAT OF SHELBOURNE

SHELBOURNE... 0 BOHEMIANS... 1

The Bohemian goalkeeper, Landers, the two backs, Molloy and Horlacher, and the left-winger, Smith, who scored the winning goal in the first half, were responsible for Shelbourne's initial reverse in the Shield at Shelbourne Park on Saturday. Fifteen minutes after Smith's goal, made easy for him by

CYCLING SUCCESS FOR J. BELL

In his third appearance this season in a Dublin event, J. Bell (Western), the northern crack, scored a notable success by beating M. Kelly (Irish Road Club) in the 25 miles open handicap for the Palmer Cup. Bell's time was 1 hr. 2 mins. 49 secs., and he beat Kelly by 22 secs., T. F. Quinn (City of Dublin), and A. Christle (Round Tower) tieing at 1 hr. 4 mins. 29 secs. for third fastest time. A County Meath rider, C. J. Curran (Kentstown) won the handicap in 55 mins. 55 secs., with an allowance of 11 mins., and a club from the same county (Bective) won the team award, National taking the novices' team prize.

Wanderers Start Well

WANDERERS... 18 BLACKROCK... 3

WANDERERS' form in their opening match against Blackrock, at Williamstown, suggested that they again will be one of the strongest and most prolific scoring sides in Leinster. Blackrock, it is true, had out a very experimental back division, and were without T. Chamberlain; but Wanderers, who also were not at full strength, played well within themselves, while showing a good deal of cleverness and originality in their attacking moves. Their score of 18 points was made up of 4 goals (1 penalty) against Blackrock's try.

M. Latchford made a promising début at stand-off for the winners, and he hit it off splendidly with C. Fox, who was at the top of his form. A. B. Robertson was as neat and efficient as usual at centre, and J. A. Mattson was sound at full back. The Blackrock forwards had some good runs, but generally had to play "second fiddle," and the backs got few chances. W. Hoffman was easily the best of the three-quarters.

Taylor and L. Horan (2) got Wanderers' tries, and all were converted by Robertson, who also kicked the penalty. Hoffman scored for Blackrock.

HARD-FOUGHT GAME

BECTIVE......... 5 ST. MARY'S... 3

Bective Rangers opened their season at Donnybrook by winning a closely-fought match against Old St. Mary's by a goal to a try. The scoring was done in the first half, Bective having the first success when B. O'Brien broke through for a try from a forward rush, and Greene added the points. Later, following some good attacks by St. Mary's, Troy joined in a passing movement and got a good try, but an easy kick at goal was missed.

St. Mary's backs were impressive, especially in the second period, but the Bective defence was staunch. B. Arigho, at out-half for St. Mary's, played cleverly; Meehan, at centre, and O'Sullivan, on the wing, were best of a fine three-quarter line, and did everything but score. The Bective forwards were impressive, and lasted out a hard game well, K. and B. O'Brien being always in the picture, while J. Doyle, despite an injury which kept him off for some time, was very good. W. Duggan, D. O'Driscoll and A. Coleman, at full-back, were the best of the others.

FIT FORWARDS

OLD WESLEY.. 20 OLD BELVEDERE 8

Tremendously fit and keen, the Old Wesley forwards laid the foundation of their side's excellent victory over the cup-holders. Old Belvedere, by 3 goals (1 dropped) and 2 tries (20 pts.) to a goal and a try (8 pts.) at Jones's road. With Carry in fine form at out-half, and the other backs tackling well, Old Wesley gave their opponents no chance of getting going, and, when their scrum-half, J. Nugent, was injured at half-time and had to retire, Old Belvedere had no chance of recovery. G. Quinn was the best of their backs, K. Quinn's handling at out-half being uncertain.

J. McConnell scored a try, which Carry converted and the latter dropped a goal in the first half. Wolfe, Carry and Glen scored tries for Old Wesley in the second half, Wolfe converting one; while G. Quinn and McKenna crossed for Old Belvedere, Aird converting one.

DESERVED SUCCESS

PALMERSTON ... 3 LANSDOWNE ... 0

A goal from a mark by C. Verso late in the first half gave Palmerston an unexpected, but deserved win over Lansdowne at Lansdowne road, where the feature of the game was the strong tackling of the visiting forwards.

G. Allen led the Palmerston pack in great style, and he was well supported by Fitzgerald, Collen and Little, while Redmond, at full-back, gave a very sound display and frequently held up some of Lansdowne's most promising moves.

EASY VICTORY

CLONTARF ..... 24 MONKSTOWN ... 3

At Castle avenue Clontarf gained an easy victory over Monkstown by 5 goals (2 penalties) and a try to 1 try. In the early stages Monkstown held their own well, especially the forwards, but later on Clontarf gained the upper hand and kept it to the finish.

M. Williams gave a fine full-back display, his kicking being excellent. He actually scored 12 points, and in addition made a marvellous attempt to drop a goal from half way, the ball striking an upright and bounding back. T. Williams worked the scrums well, and Milroy, Madden, and P. Fitzpatrick were the best of a good pack.

Dempsey, the Monkstown full, did right well, and O'Connor and L. Craig were the pick of the other backs. Ganly, Blackmore, and Carr were prominent among the forwards.

In the first half tries were scored for Clontarf by Breen, Mullen, S. Fitzpatrick, and T. Williams, M. Williams converting two and adding a penalty goal. Williams also converted a try by P. Moran in the second half and landed another penalty. E. Hart scored for Monkstown.

Cork Match.—Sunday's Well 18, Constitution 12.

WOMEN'S HOCKEY PRACTICES

All the Dublin clubs held practices on Saturday. There was the usual large muster at Templeogue, where Maids of the Mountain, with whom were Miss Maddocks (Dublin University) and Miss Hyland (Muckross) had two very fast twenty-fives. Optimists also had a good attendance, but they have lost the services of Mrs. Fox. Mrs. Hunter, and Miss Kirkpatrick.

Mrs. Bormingham and Miss Perry Flynn will be absent this season from the ranks of Loreto Past, and Miss Dolan will not be able to turn out for at least a month, but they have secured the services of some promising juniors. Civil Service had a good muster, and should do well this season.

Wicklow Past, who are again at the Green Lanes, will have a number of players who have finished with the school and are in town. Muckross will be the same as last season, with Old College, Pembroke Wanderers, Newcomes, and Shielmartin.

CHURCH'S PART IN SOCIAL LIFE

DR. TEMPLE'S VIEWS

THE Archbishop of Canterbury (Dr. Temple), in the Albert Hall, London, on Saturday, answered critics who argue that it is not the Church's business to guide people on social and industrial questions. The Church, he said, has not only a right, it has a duty, to declare the principles of true social life.

He was presiding at a mass meeting arranged by the Industrial Christian Fellowship, as a sequel to the Malvern Conference of last year.

When we look upon the society with which we have been familiar, two points in its ordering, at least, challenge the judgment of the Church, which must inevitably be uttered in condemnation, said Dr. Temple. The first is the broken fellowship of our society—what Disraeli called the two nations. This broken fellowship rests upon the materialism of our habitual outlook. This leads to that gross disparity of wealth and poverty which must, at all costs, be remedied. And it leads also to a lack of leisure, which, in an age of mechanised industry, involves lack of opportunity for a fully human life. To provide for all adequate leisure, with the means to utilise and enjoy it, must be one of our primary aims.

Speaking of the profit motive in industry, Dr. Temple said: "It can have its own right place, but that is not the first place, and the harm of the predominance of the profit motive is not merely that it is an expression of selfishness, whether the form it takes is concerned with dividends or with wages, but that to put this first may lead to an ordering of economic life which is, in fact, damaging to the general interest."

Dealing with the money problem, he said that the banks should be limited in lending-power to the amount deposited by their clients, while the issue of new credit should be the function of a public authority

HOUSING

In an address dealing specially with housing and planning, the Archbishop of York (Dr. Cyril Garbett) deplored the poverty and malnutrition associated with bad housing in town and country, and advocated the setting up of a central planning authority to avoid the mistakes made after the last war.

Sir Stafford Cripps, Lord Privy Seal, speaking on "The Challenge of Christianity," said: "It is not the function of the Church as an organised body to enter the lists of political parties. It is for the Church to provide the moral force and the driving power for social and economic development. If privilege is to be ended, then we must be prepared to give up our privileges with the rest, not excluding the privilege of endowment and of establishment for the Church."

KILMORE CATHEDRAL

DEDICATION CEREMONY

The new Kilmore Cathedral of SS. Patrick and Felim, in Cavan, was solemnly dedicated yesterday by the Most Rev. Dr. Lyons, Bishop of Kilmore, in presence of the Most Rev. Paschal Robinson, Papal Nuncio; His Eminence Cardinal MacRory, Primate of All Ireland (who presided); members of the Hierarchy, about 150 priests, and thousands of laity from all over the diocese. The following Bishops were present: Most Rev. Dr. McQuaid, Archbishop of Dublin; Most Rev. Dr. Dalton, Coadjutor Bishop of Meath; Most Rev. Dr. Mulhern, Dromore; Most Rev. Dr. Mageean, Down and Conor; Most Rev. Dr. MacNamee, Ardagh and Clonmacnoise; Most Rev. Dr. Farren, Derry; Most Rev. Dr. MacNeely, Raphoe; Right Rev. Monsignor Keown, P.P., V.G., Carrickmacross; the Lord Abbot of Mount Melleray; Right Rev. Dom Celsus O'Connell, O.Cist. Mr. S. T. O'Kelly, T.D., and Mr. P. Smith, T.D., represented the Government, and Mr. W. T. Cosgrave, T.D., and Professor O'Sullivan, the Opposition.

Pontifical High Mass was celebrated by the Most Rev. Dr. MacNeely, with the Very Rev. P. McNiffe, President, St. Patrick's College, Cavan, as assistant priest, and Very Rev. John Maguire, Adm., V.G., Cavan, general master of ceremonies. The Chaplains to Cardinal MacRory were: Right Rev. Monsignor McDonald, P.P., V.G., Dungannon, and the Right Rev. Monsignor O'Callaghan, P.P., V.G., Drogheda. After the Apostolic Benediction had been imparted, the Most Rev. Dr. MacNamee preached the dedication sermon, in which he gave a history of the diocese.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies the Most Rev. Dr. Lyons paid a tribute to his predecessor, the Most Rev. Dr. Finegan, for his great work in amassing sufficient money to proceed with the project.

STOCKS AND SHARES GO AHEAD

BY OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT.

CHEERFUL conditions prevailed in the London Stock Markets last week, and the rising tendency of prices was maintained until the "House" closed on Friday. The firmness was not reflected in any appreciable increase in business, the improvement in many securities being due to the continued market shortage of stock and the weight of money seeking investment.

British Funds made some recovery from their recent set-back, the feature being a rise of ¼ on the week in the 3½ p.c. War Loan to 106¼, a realisation that the price now includes five months of accrued interest having attracted buyers.

Brazilian Bonds continued to rally on news of sinking fund purchases, and, although not very active, Home Railway Junior issues continued their advance because of buying to secure the potential good yields.

The demand for Home Industrials was selective. A feature was the increased activity for leading Textiles, the week's gains ranging from 9d. to 2s. 9d. The biggest movement was in Courtaulds which was favourably influenced by the Chairman's reference to post-war opportunities. Cotton Textiles, among which a jump of 2/6 in Bradford Dyers was a feature, were supported on hopeful views about trading prospects, and also by the news that a meeting of trade representatives had been held in Manchester to discuss steps in planning for post-war revival in the cotton and rayon textile industry.

Whether the advance in leading Cotton Textile companies Ord. stocks is justified it is hard to say, but, as some of the buying is believed to have been speculative, a reaction would not be surprising. The rise was assisted by the small supply of stock available.

There was a good market for Aircraft issues, and various Iron, Steel and Engineering, Electrical Equipment and Stores issues were also improved.

Some of the leading Oils were better, and there was more activity in Mines, especially Kaffirs which were bought on Johannesburg and local account.

Owing to the small yield obtainable from Gilt-edged securities, especially when allowance is made for higher taxation, there has been a greater disposition to buy Ordinary shares, in order to obtain a relatively high return. It is also considered that the appreciation in British Government and similar stocks during the past twelve months, by which the return to new buyers has been reduced, justifies better prices for Equities. In other words, that these should be quoted on a lower yield basis. Otherwise the difference in the yields from the two groups would be unduly large.

In these matters, of course, no hard and fast rule can be laid down. Sentiment accounts for something, and before the last war sentiment was against equities, or, rather, it was considered that they should give a relatively high yield because of the risk which a holding was supposed to entail. Then came a boom in Ordinary stocks and shares, many of which were valued for a time on a ridiculously low yield basis, but afterwards valuations became more reasonable.

Still, the change in sentiment during the last ten or twenty years has been in favour of Equities, and a considerable rise in prices from the present level would be difficult to justify, especially when taxation, including E.P.T. is taken into account.

IRISH COMPANIES DOING WELL

MARKETS on the Dublin Stock Exchange during the past week were again quite busy, but public interest was mostly confined to the Industrial section. Despite the difficult times we are passing through, the leading Irish concerns are believed to be doing reasonably well, and the outlook is viewed with a more hopeful light. The yields to be had are comparatively good, and many investors are taking a long view, being content to ignore what may happen in the immediate future.

Home Government Funds were quieter, and, although values held up well, there seemed to be a tendency to take profits. As there seems every likelihood of a new loan in the coming months, many people wish to be in a position to take up the new stock and, at the same time, turn the profits they have on paper into cash.

The Railway market is attracting more attention, but movements were irregular and almost without feature. It is generally believed that both the leading companies are doing well—especially the Great Northern Co. In this section, Great Northern Preference stock is considered the best purchase if one is looking for a holding with scope for capital appreciation. Last year the Ordinary stock received a dividend of one per cent., but there are hopes that this will be increased to three per cent. for the current year.

Dublin Transport Ord. had a smart rise to 20/6, but later profit-taking resulted in an easing to 20/4½. This was not surprising, seeing that the shares have risen steadily over recent months. The company is doing well, and the prospects for the period of the emergency and for a long time after are bright.

Alliance Gas Ordinary, which at one time reached 20/-, fell back again to 19/6 on the chairman's remarks at the general meeting. Despite the increase in the price of gas, he pointed that it would not be sufficient to rectify the adverse conditions now prevailing, and it was almost certain that a further increase must be contemplated. With the outlook so uncertain the shares look fully valued if one is only prepared to take a short view.

There was a strong demand for James Crean issues, and the Ordinary jumped to 6/-, while the Preference were all buyers at 15/-. The Ordinary shares, which are of 10/- denomination, have never received a dividend, but the opinion in some quarters is that the company is doing much better. Solus issues are holding firm on the final dividend of 5 per cent., again making 10 per cent. for the year. The company has done well since its formation, and it is, it is believed, in a favourable position regarding supplies of raw materials.

Guinness Units met with fairly substantial support towards the week-end, and finished firm at 104/-. At this price they look attractive as a sound Industrial investment. On the basis of last year's dividend of 29 per cent. they give a return of around £5 11/6 per cent.

Presentation at the Sailors' Rest, North Wall, to Mr. R. W. Jones, assistant cook, L.M.S. Slieveleague, on the occasion of his forthcoming marriage. Captain Roberts made the presentation.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Woodbines One Penny Each.—At Tullamore District Court, Mary Coffey, shopkeeper, was fined £1 on each of two charges for selling three woodbine cigarettes at one penny each and selling in less units than five.

The Price of Bacon.—South Kilkenny Comhairle Ceanntair Fianna Fail, asks that a commission be set up to inquire into the present price of bacon—1/- per lb. paid to the producer and from 2/3 to 2/8 charged to the consumer.

Took Wrong Turning.—At Cavan District Court, Myles Burke, Glebe street, Ballinrobe, Co. Mayo, was fined £100 for exporting a motor lorry across the border at Teggakelly, Redhills. Defendant said he was delivering it to a man in Clones when he took a wrong turn into Northern Ireland.

Two Months for Cycle Stealing.—Richard Mitchell, Tankardstown, who appeared in custody, and who is presently serving an 18 months' sentence for cattle-stealing, was, at Navan District Court, sentenced to two months, the sentence to run concurrently, on a charge of stealing a bicycle value, £6 10/-.

Red Cross First Aid.—The second lecture of the course in first aid, which is being run under the auspices of the Red Cross, in the Mansion House, will be held to-morrow at 8 p.m. The cadets' training class is being held in the MacEntire Hall, 21 St. Stephen's Green, on Wednesday next at 7.45 p.m. Uniform should be worn.

Grants for Agricultural Schemes.—Live stock and other schemes under the Department of Agriculture costing £4,914 have been provisionally adopted by Longford Co. Committee of Agriculture. Including a special grant of £2,000 under the lime scheme, Mr. Hopkins, Department Inspector, said that farmers were being handed back £4,803 in grants for their contribution of £1,771 from the rates.

Drowned in Foyle.—Death from drowning was the verdict returned at the inquest on Thomas Wilkin (40), merchant, Carrigans, Co. Donegal, whose body was recovered from the River Foyle opposite Carrigans Railway Station. Being a fairly experienced boatman, he had, along with Archibald Roulston (22), also of Carrigans, gone out in a flat-bottomed rowing boat on September 16th. Since then both have been missing. The search for the body of Roulston continued all day yesterday.

Transport Pooling Scheme.—At a meeting in Cork of the National Private Lorry Owners' Association, Mr. J. Ryan Charleville, presiding, the principle of the Government's proposed transport pooling scheme was accepted, but the meeting suggested that, as railway lorries would be engaged with the harvest, no further traders' lorries should be put off the road until next January. It was also suggested that the Government should consult with the interests concerned.

FALSE CLAIM

When William Daly (20), fitter's apprentice, St. Ignatius avenue, Dublin, was charged in Dublin on Saturday with making a false claim for compensation for injuries received while acting as a warden, District Justice Mangan said that after the North Strand bombing there were some false claims. This was something that must be stopped, because of the drain it could impose on the State.

Detective Sergeant Dodd said that Daly had claimed more than he was entitled to from the Department of Finance.

District Justice Mangan said that he took Daly's previous good character into account, and sentenced him to six months' imprisonment, but suspended the penalty.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Saturday.—The opening trend was irregular, and trading was quiet. While bids were plentiful for selective issues in the early dealings, real strength was absent in most categories. On the other hand, little actual weakness cropped up, and small variations appeared in the list later. The market closed irregular. Sales totalling 227,000 shares comprised 540 issues, of which 145 advanced, 202 declined, and 193 remained unchanged.

Why I changed TO MINER'S LIQUID MAKE UP

— by A SCHOOL TEACHER

What chance have I of remaking my face during hours? No wonder I changed! Without even a tiny blob or streak to mar its smoothness Miner's Liquid Make Up STAYS matt, gives a foundation of loveliness. Half a minute in the morning and beautiful skin is mine for the day. No doubt, no uncertainty—I know my complexion is perfect and will remain so. Ancient Irish History is one thing, but when it comes to cosmetics it's the modern liquid foundation for me—Miner's.

Y.M.C.A. CONVENTION

The annual convention of the Young Men's Christian Association opened yesterday in the Metropolitan Hall, Lower Abbey street, Dublin, and will be continued daily until the 7th October. In the afternoon a men's meeting, which was largely attended, was addressed by Mr. A. Lindsay Glegg, A.C.G.I., A.M.I.E.E. (Surrey), and the Rev. E. Buckhurst Pinch (Edinburgh). They also addressed a Gospel Service at 8.30 p.m. The convention meetings will continue to-night at 8 o'clock, and there will be a special missionary rally on Saturday evening next and a women's meeting on Wednesday afternoon at 3.30.

GEOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY

Members of the Geographical Society of Ireland, about 50 in all, conducted by Professor F. E. Hackett, on Saturday made an excursion into the countryside. They did a ten-mile walk, from Old Bawn cross-roads, near Tallaght, through Brittas Ponds to the Glade of Saggart, and thence to the Swift Brook Paper Mills.

At the mills the party was received by the Managing Director, Mr. W. R. Horsbrugh, and his assistants, Mr. A. Renwick and Mr. P. Ewen. The members of the Society were conducted over the factory and witnessed the processes of making Swift Brook writing paper and paper for school exercise books.

CATHOLIC SOCIAL SERVICE

ARCHBISHOP'S APPEAL

The following letter from the Archbishop of Dublin (Most Rev. Dr. McQuaid) was read in the churches of the diocese yesterday:—

Archbishop's House, Dublin.
24th September, 1942.

VERY REV. AND DEAR FATHER,—At the approach of autumn we take occasion to request that you will be good enough to bring once more to the notice of the faithful the work and the needs of the Catholic Social Service Conference.

About eighteen months have passed since we called together the representatives of the main associations for charitable work in this diocese. The results achieved by the united intelligence and zeal of these societies in the provision for the poor of food, fuel and clothing have more than justified the trust that called into being the Conference.

The alms received, and most carefully distributed, has availed in very large measure not only to lessen existing want, but even to secure thousands of our people against the fear of daily suffering. The published record of the activities of the Conference is a necessary document, giving proof of serious administration, but it cannot record the value before God of the supernatural charity of the faithful of this diocese.

The coming winter will find us, no doubt, in the happier position of improved and wider social services, for which the citizens must duly thank the Government and the Corporation. None the less, the voluntary charitable services will find a most ample sphere for their necessary activity. Therefore, as on a former occasion, we would request the faithful to assist by their alms the efforts of the Catholic Social Service Conference, and, to that end, we have prescribed a public collection to be held in all the churches of the diocese on Sunday, 4th October.

Hitherto it has required but the suggestion to evoke an immediate answer from unnumbered and unknown lovers of the poor of Christ. Such an answer, we believe, is characteristic of the city and the Diocese of Dublin. It is the mark of a faith which is generous in personal sacrifice, because it is compassionate towards Jesus Christ, and, for His sake, would relieve the pain of every suffering member of society. To that faith, then, we confidently entrust the needs of all the poor of Jesus Christ, more especially the children and the sick and aged; for their presence among us is the unfailing privilege promised us by God made man, once poor Himself, and still requiring service in their person.

I remain,
Very Rev. and Dear Father,
Your faithful servant in Christ,
✠ JOHN CHARLES, Archbishop of Dublin, Primate of Ireland.

WHAT IS PEACE?

"What is peace? Or, at any rate, what does the Bible mean by peace?" asked the Dean of Christ Church, Oxford (Very Rev. J. H. Lowe, D.D.), preaching in St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin, yesterday morning from the text, "The Peace of God" (Phil. iv., 7).

Our scale of values was apt, he said, to begin with peace of mind, and too often we closed our eyes to actual facts. We looked for a peaceful environment, by which we meant freedom for ourselves from unfairness or strife, and only then, if at all, did we concern ourselves about the peace which comes from God. If we contrasted this with the Biblical order we found it was precisely the reverse. There peace from God came first, peace with God second, and then peace among men, and lastly peace within man. This was putting first things first. By reversing the order we had failed signally to maintain peace in the world. Perhaps if we tried to recover that Biblical order of emphasis we would fit ourselves for that peace of God which passeth all understanding.

The clergy taking part in the Service were the Rev. Canon Campbell, the Rev. Chancellor A. A. Luce, D.D., and the Rev. J. L. P. Atkinson, M.A.

Stalingrad

Nearly five weeks have passed since the Germans launched their great attack upon Stalingrad. Their offensive had achieved remarkable success. They had swept across the Don, covering something like four hundred miles in a month; and when they opened their assault on Stalingrad it seemed to be almost certain that they would reach the line of the Volga early in September. Not for the first time the truth of the old military maxim was vindicated; no battle ever goes according to plan after the second day. The German High Command had conducted its great offensive against the Soviets in copybook style. Marshal von Bock had used his armoured divisions, his dive-bombing aircraft, his parachute troops, and his highly trained infantry with characteristic efficiency, and the terrain of the Kuban steppes favoured his tactics. Everything went precisely according to the rules of the Kriegsspiel until the siege of Stalingrad began. Then the entire situation underwent a drastic change. Stalingrad is a huge straggling city along the banks of the Volga. From the moment when Marshal Timoshenko decided to defend it, street by street and house by house, the German High Command found itself faced with a problem towards the solution of which the military text books offered no immediate solution. The Germans were unable to surround Stalingrad, because they were unable to get across the Volga. Therefore, they were compelled to deliver frontal assaults which succeeded to the extent that they managed to penetrate into the city's suburbs; but there their customary tactics failed. Tanks are useless—indeed, they may be worse than useless—in street fighting. Dive bombers may create great havoc, but they cannot distinguish between friend and foe—an inability that applies also to artillery. The Russians apparently had converted Stalingrad into a fortress which, according to a German military spokesman in Berlin, is "of incredible strength." For more than a month now the Soviet troops have been defending the ruins of Stalingrad with almost superhuman determination. The Germans themselves admit that there no longer can be any question of a collapse of Russian moral; and their military spokesman announced last week that "the German Command were sorely tried by the Russians' unexpected, and seemingly improbable, tactics."

However that may be, the bald fact is that Stalingrad still is in Russian hands. The Germans so far have been denied access to the Volga; and, unless the situation should change drastically within the next day or so, Herr Hitler's High Command will be forced to alter its plans. Unless Marshal von Bock can establish himself firmly along the line of the Volga before the onset of winter, he will have to withdraw from the dangerous salient which has been created since the advance from the Don, just as he had to withdraw last year from the salient in front of Moscow. From the purely military point of view such a manœuvre would not be particularly difficult, and Marshal von Bock is sufficiently experienced to carry it out with comparative ease; but the military point of view, important as it is, is not the only factor to be taken into account. There also is the question of German moral. During the last couple of months the German armies in Russia have been subjected to a terrific strain. They have accomplished military wonders; but they have been led, not unreasonably, to believe that Stalingrad would fall like ripe fruit into their hands, and that the war in Russia, for most practical purposes, would be over by the end of the present month. Now, whatever may happen to the débris of Stalingrad, whose defenders are fighting from the shelter of cellars and a labyrinth of underground strongholds, the inevitability of another winter campaign in Russian conditions has become obvious to everybody. Speaking in Berlin yesterday—on the second anniversary of the signing of the Tripartite Pact—Herr von Ribbentrop, Herr Hitler's Foreign Minister, expressed his confidence that Germany would win the Stalingrad battle. On the other hand, it is becoming increasingly obvious that public opinion in Germany is disappointed at the undoubted check that has been given to Marshal von Bock's forces. Almost for the first time since the war began it has been proved that human endurance can stand up successfully to mechanised strength. Stalingrad's resistance has given new heart to the Russian armies, which must have suffered dreadful losses since the campaign began. At the moment, while they still are in a desperately serious position, they have a tremendous psychological advantage over their enemies.

The Church of England

Nobody who studies cross-Channel affairs can fail to have noticed the change which has overtaken the Church of England during the last few years. Not so long ago the Church was regarded, rightly or wrongly, as a centre of "reaction"; it was associated with the extremists of the Conservative Party, and everything that flavoured in the smallest degree of Socialist politics, or of a Socialist outlook, was deemed anathema to it. Since the outbreak of war, however, the official pronouncements of the Church of England have given the lie to such views. As befits any national Church, it is steadfast in its support of the British Government, but it has delivered itself of sentiments which must cause grave uneasiness to many of the British Government's most prominent supporters; and the foremost exponent of these heterodox views—heterodox from the Conservative point of view—has been the new Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Temple. Dr. Temple is not an out-and-out Socialist, but he has strong opinions on the subject of property, and has not hesitated to express them. During the week-end, at a meeting which was arranged in London by the Industrial Christian Fellowship, as a sequel to last year's Malvern Conference, the Archbishop attacked "the gross materialism of our habitual outlook," resulting in "that gross disparity of wealth and poverty which must at all costs be remedied," and also to "a lack of opportunity for a fully human life." On the subjects of credit and of monopolies he was less "extreme" than a political Socialist party would be; his sentiments, indeed, were curiously akin to those of the Papal encyclicals which have obtained such wide—and belated—advertisement within recent years. The Archbishop of York spoke as a practical reformer. England, as he said in effect, was full of evils which had been aggravated by the war—extreme poverty, malnutrition, bad housing. Those evils must be remedied, and could be remedied only by a Central Planning Authority, allotting space and opportunity to industry and agriculture, devising "new cities which are not mere dormitories, but communities centred around the church, school and guildhall." These leaders of the Church of England are daring men. They realise that the war has put an end to an old order—an order which had its virtues, but whose virtues were insufficient to outweigh its defects, and they are prepared to preach their faith. It may not be preached without sacrifice.

TO CONDUCT B.B.C. CONCERT

The conductor of the Irish Radio Orchestra, Lieutenant Michael Bowles, will conduct the B.B.C. Symphony orchestra in a concert, which will be broadcast in the B.B.C. home service on October 3 next. One of his own compositions will be included in the programme. The concert will begin at 2.30 p.m.

Lieutenant Bowles, who was trained in the Army School of Music under Colonel Fritz Brasé, was formerly an official of the Department of Education. He also studied music under Dr. Larchet at University College, Dublin, and he has conducted the Irish Radio Orchestra at symphony concerts in Dublin. At the moment he is detached from the Army.

Cinema Notes

By OUR FILM CORRESPONDENT.

SECRETS (Carlton), with its supporting picture, provides the best of Dublin's by no means exciting new film programmes this week. In it, Warren William appears once again as the notorious jewel thief, "The Lone Wolf," who, this time, is on the side of the law and working very hard to defeat the efforts of half-a-dozen of the top jewel operators in the United States to make him hunt in their pack. A great deal of what this picture has to offer is due to the acting of the suave, smiling and inimitable Eric Biore, as the valet, Jamison, and he has an admirable foil in Fred Kelsey in the part of a particularly bone-headed "cop," Dickens. The second picture, "The Boss said 'No,'" carries the Bumstead Saga a step further, and tells what happens when Dagworth and Blondie interrupt their married life to "go to college." It is a bright little picture, which ends on some nice notes of harmony with the singing of the college song, "Loyal Sons of Leighton."

Three Girls About Town (Capitol) has a fine comedy team in Joan Blondell, Binnie Barnes, Robert Benchley and Eric Blore, all of whose surnames start with the letter "B." But they have nothing really to work on, and the result is a Class "B" picture, which produces occasional flashes and sparks, but never burns a full, steady flame of fun.

Hayfoot (Theatre Royal) is a film sequel to the original "Tanks a Million," and shows once again that fine actor, James Gleason, as Colonel Barkley, playing the part of a fire-eating Charlie McCarthy to William Tracy, an unusual sergeant in what seems to be (if we are to believe Hollywood) a most unusual army. This is a reasonably good picture, judged by second feature standards, and is occasionally very funny, indeed.

Blue, White and Perfect (Corinthian) is an average "spy" drama, with Lloyd Nolan as the wise-cracking detective; the title refers to some industrial diamonds which changed hands several times during the picture. The lady in the case was Mary Beth Hughes. Also on the programme, "Stick to Your Guns," a good old-fashioned "Wild-Wester," with Bill Boyd as Hopalong Cassidy.

OTHER CINEMAS

Gone With the Wind (Savoy) should bring its Dublin audiences up to the 100,000 figure during its coming fourth week.

Son of Fury (Metropole) is in its third week, which proves that people like this sort of thing.

Lorna Doone (Astor), with a good support, the documentary film, "North Sea."

Tortilla Flat (Regal). Not as good as Steinbeck's book, they tell me, but good enough for me.

Reap the Wild Wind (Grafton), in "gorgeous" technicolour, with "a cast of thousands."

The Fleet's In (Adelphi), and anchored for a second week.

Boys From Syracuse (Green). A comedy of errors.

Magnificent Obsession (Grand Central). Irene Dunne and Robert Taylor.

Rise and Shine (Pavilion, Dun Laoghaire). Wednesday: "How Green Was My Valley."

The Feminine Touch (Regent, Blackrock). One of the best film comedies of recent months. Thursday: "Law of the Tropics."

NORTH BULL VISITORS

EARLY ARRIVALS

The Siberia to Palestine route, via the North Bull, Dublin, has come into operation nearly a month earlier than usual this year. The travellers, of course, are the curlews and other migrant birds who at this time of the year usually decide that they have seen enough of the tundra type of scenery and start out for the orange-grovey regions of Palestine and North Africa. En route they stop off for a few days at the North Bull, where a nice selection of salt water pools gives them just what they want for a night's lodgings. In fact, most of them usually stay two nights, probably encouraged by the fact that the North Bull is a well guarded bird sanctuary.

Usually the curlews are not seen at the North Bull till mid-October, but this year they have been seen in groups ranging from about four to twenty for the last week or so. The Rev. P. G. Kennedy, S.J., told an Irish Times reporter that he did not think the cold weather had been responsible for the earlier arrival of the curlews, as they had been seen while the weather was still warm and summery.

In addition to the curlews, thousands of godwits—a brown, long-legged bird of curlew size—and of dunlins—a small brown bird—have also been seen at the North Bull, the numbers being unusual for this time of year. They are on routes similar to those taken by the curlews.

BELFAST 'BUS CRASH

26 PASSENGERS INJURED

A double-decker trolley 'bus, carrying 50 passengers, crashed into a lamp standard, and, setting fire to a gas pipe, fell on its side, at Divis street, Belfast, on Saturday afternoon. The driver had swerved to avoid running over a child when the accident occurred. When the vehicle overturned, the passengers were thrown in all directions, and some fainted. Panic was caused in the lower saloon when gas fumes came through the window from the broken gas pipe. The passengers made desperate efforts to release themselves, and the emergency doors were smashed open by civilians and police. Twenty-six injured passengers were taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital, where they were treated and discharged. The driver, Mr. H. Hyland, Broadway Parade, Belfast, was the most seriously hurt, with injuries in the back and head.

MRS. WELL-OFF'S PROBLEMS

The usual salutations to spring in the form of new costumes and coats seem more likely to come next year from Mrs. Average Citizen than from Mrs. Well-To-Do. For, while Mrs. W.T.D. panicked at the beginning of clothes rationing and bought hard and fast, Mrs. A.C., whose spending power was limited by her means, found herself only a modest way down the "A" page of our coupon book, while the other lady was well into her "C" page.

Confirmation of this was given to an Irish Times reporter at several large Dublin department stores yesterday, when an examination of the most recent coupons left by women buyers proved to be about 90 per cent. "A's."

"We, at any rate, are glad of this," an official at one store stated. "It has solved our problem of keeping down purchases to a rate which will allow us to continue our staff in employment. Christmas, of course, may see havoc wrought in many a book from which coupons had been shed only gradually up to the present. But that is a thing which is very difficult to forecast."

LONDON JEWEL THEFTS

A necklace worth £20,000, belonging to Miss Catherine Mary Willoughby-Smith, was stolen from a room at a London West End hotel yesterday. Miss Willoughby-Smith also lost some small articles of jewellery.

Jewellery worth £25 was taken from the room of Lady Violet Deramore at the same hotel. The thefts occurred about lunch-time.

I dreamt last night that a fellow said to me, talking of Russia: Did ye know that Guinness's own a lot of property out there? Did ye not know that? Oh, sure, gob, that's well known—they own nearly all Siberia—sure how could they keep themselves goin in hops and so on above in James's Street? Begob the stuff they use there didn't come from England, or from Holland aither. Sure didn't one of the Guinnesses go over there to Russia in nineteen o seven, the year of the Exhibition, and buy up twenty million acres of hops and barley and wrote out contracts for as much more and what's more paid cash on the nail in Bank of England fivers. Sure what are you talking about man. O certainly. Guinness's was the best customer they ever had over there and damn well they know it. And do you know what I'm going to tell you, they'd do annythin for Guinness's, annything. The Russian is a gas man, but he's a decent man, d'ye see, a hell of a decent man. O certaintly, sure that's well known. Annybody'll tell you that, man.

After this winter, I predict that a great change will have come over Ireland's urban communities, particularly Dublin. Turf will be burned in large quantities in every home and the use of this fuel envolves profound physical, psychological, social and cultural changes.

The body, from being smoked, assumes a leathery mummified aspect and the continual bending at the fire-place to replace the quickly consumed sods imparts a permanent stoop and roundness to the shoulders. Psychologically, the never-ending task of putting oblong lumps of Ireland into a fire and subsequently enduring the strong turbulent fume of the conflagration induces the primitive peasant awareness of nature and the soil; soon the face registers struggle and crudity. Socially, the family is drawn together and compelled to sit round the turf fire (in which most of them are financially interested) by the fear that any particle of heat so expensive and transient should be allowed to escape without heating somebody. The cultural revolution follows from this instinct to congregate within the forbidden degrees of kindred; with eyes too sore and red from turf-smoke to read with, new arts of story-telling, gossip, calumny, and foul temper arise. An odd distaste from either walking or running in movement is observed. All journeys, even those as short as a few yards, are carried out in a trot. After a year of intensive turf-culture, every member of the family is an accomplished bog-trotter.

Let us hope that a couple of brand new towny shanachies will emerge out of this new ardour.

WEDDINGS

Leitch—Mallet.—The wedding took place on Saturday last at Monkstown Church of Dr. Matthew David Leitch, second son of the late Mr. Andrew Leitch and Mrs. Leitch, of Homelea, Omagh, Co. Tyrone, and Dr. Olive Yvonne Mallet, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Mallet, 2 Richmond Hill, Monkstown, Co. Dublin. The Rev. H. G. Forde, who officiated, was assisted by the Rev. H. A. Lillie (brother-in-law of the bridegroom) and the Rev. T. G. Kennedy. The bride was given away by her father, and was attended by one bridesmaid, Miss Pamela Mallet (sister), and by a matron-of-honour, Mrs. Norman McBratney. Dr. Thomas W. Buckley was best man, and the ushers in the church were Mr. W. E. Morton, Mr. A. S. Hudson, Dr. David Mitchell, Mr. Ronald Baskin and Mr. Gilbert Leitch. After a reception held at the bride's home, Dr. and Mrs. M. D. Leitch left for the North of Ireland.

Hunt—Comerford.—The marriage took place at University Church, Dublin, of Lieutenant P. J. Hunt, A.S.C., eldest son of Superintendent J. and Mrs. Hunt, Enniscrone, Co. Sligo, and Miss Mary Comerford, L.P.S.I., youngest daughter of Mrs. and the late Edward Comerford, Thomastown, Co. Kilkenny. The ceremony, with Nuptial Mass, was performed by the Rev. S. Bourke, Army Chaplain. Miss Margaret Comerford (sister of the bride) was bridesmaid, and Lieutenant T. A. Hunt (brother of the bridegroom) was best man. The groomsman was Captain P. A. Derivan, A.M.S.

LONDON LETTER

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
SUNDAY NIGHT.

SIR CHARLES A. TEGART, formerly Chief of Police in Calcutta, has been appointed head of the Food Ministry's department to check profiteering and black marketing in food. Son of the Rev. J. P. Tegart, of Dunboyne, Co. Meath, he was educated at Portora and at T.C.D. Joining the Indian Police in 1901, he was awarded the King's Police Medal in 1911. During the last war he had a notable career in the Intelligence Department, and was twice decorated. In 1937-8 he was engaged on similar work in Palestine. A master of disguise and fluent in Indian and Arabic dialects, his wife once tipped him in Calcutta, in the belief that he was a Bengali beggar.

Electricity

Major Lloyd George has received numerous representations from consumers that, while in response to his economy appeal they have cut down their consumption of electricity to a minimum, they are now in many cases being asked to pay a minimum quarterly charge, so that a reduction in consumption is not accompanied by a corresponding reduction in what they have to pay. From the point of view of the consumer it is reasonable under present circumstances that each minimum should be spread over a longer period than a quarter, so that for the purpose of assessing his liability to a minimum charge the consumer can take into account his heavier consumption in the winter quarters as well as his lower consumption in the summer quarters. Major Lloyd George has, accordingly, made an order as a result of which electricity undertakings will not be allowed to make a minimum quarterly charge, only a charge of 25s. for a twelve months period if energy to that value is not consumed.

Tobacco Tins

From Thursday, no tobacconist in Great Britain or Northern Ireland may deliver to any customer any tobacco in a metal container. The tobacco will have to be removed before being handed over, and the tin retained and preserved by the tobacconist, who will deliver it to one of the dépôts being set up all over the country for returned tobacco trade materials. Many hundreds of thousands of tins will be made available each month for re-conditioning, sterilisation, and subsequent use.

Too Few "Vets."

The war has brought about a better appreciation of the veterinary profession, of what it stands for, and of the vital part it can play in conquering disease. Speaking at the National Veterinary Medical Association Congress on Friday—at which Mr. Whitty, Deputy Chief Veterinary Officer of the Department of Agriculture was the Irish delegate—Dr. W. R. Wooldridge said that there was only two thousand active veterinary surgeons in Britain to cope with a task that could well employ twice that number. At the moment, veterinary surgeons here are pursuing inquiries into the diseases of pigs and sheep, in addition to their every-day work in connection with the production, quality, and safety of meat and milk. They say that they will be unable to carry out their obligations unless vigorous steps are immediately taken to improve the facilities for veterinary education. Dr. Wooldridge announced the formation of a trust to raise a minimum sum of £1,000,000 for this purpose—a very small in comparison with the huge losses arising from animal ill-health.

Clay Pipes

There are at present only two firms manufacturing clay pipes in Britain who care to describe themselves unashamedly as "clay pipe manufacturers." They are in Glasgow and Dundee. Otherwise this once thriving industry is defunct except for a few craftsmen. Apart from the small demand, there is the lack of skilled labour and greatly increased costs of production. Clay transport costs £1 for a six-ton wagon and coal is almost unobtainable. At one time almost all the clay pipes in this country were made in Scotland.

AN IRISHMAN'S DIARY

The Phœnix Park To-day

"Ye gods, what vandalism!" exclaimed a friend with whom I visited the Phœnix Park the other day. He had been away from Dublin for a number of years. This is what he saw during his trek of its broad acres: Europe's greatest polo ground converted into plots on which cattle were grazing! all the scenic views despoiled by thirty-feet-high, sodden turf ricks along the three miles of Dubliners' boulevard, and also in the "Fifteen Acres," where the turf continues to be stacked; almost the entire Park turned into a grazing ranch; the carcases of shot buck deer, their bodies still warm, lying about the "Acres," and hundreds of does and fawns rushing everywhere about the Park terrified at the sight of man—and always turning their backs to the empty corral designed to trap them.

"That corral must be the laughing-stockyard of Dublin," my friend punned.

As we left the "Acres" we saw numbers of women and girls amid the clusters of trees gathering sticks and twigs and filling big sacks in a bid to ensure some warmth during the cold days, while out on the road the decaying turf ricks were tumbling down.

The Army "In Action"

The men who are taking part in the All-Army show at the Theatre Royal this week marched all the way from their home stations to Cork and back again, and as they marched they sang day in and day out. In their bivouacs at night they threw impromptu camp-fire concerts, and the country folk turned up in their thousands to listen and sing with them.

Over and above all this fun stood the discipline, endurance and efficiency of the men. They often fought for 48 hours without sleep and little or no food. They lay out under the hedges and ditches, they forded rivers and climbed mountains, and at the end of it all they marched through Cork like a Brigade of Guards on parade.

The bulk of the division—the Spearhead Division—is stationed in and about Dublin, and five of its battalions are exclusively Dublin-raised, so that the show should be the capital's welcome home to them. Finally, a word as to their conduct. At the beginning the clannish Munster folk were a bit scared of these wild invaders, but the boys won them over by their good discipline and courtesy, and in the end there was nothing but praise for them.

Hare-pin Style

With the Central Bank Bill having a fresh innings in the Senate money was in the news last week. A country pub provided a new and novel angle on it the other day.

The tavern was very close to the border, and there were only the two of us—one obviously a Southerner and the other, equally obviously, a Northerner. The latter tendered the barman half a crown. "Could you give me thruppenny bits?" he inquired, as the proprietor was rummaging for the change.

He was so delighted at obtaining four of them that he turned to me confidentially: "Brave wee bits, those; worth a bob apiece to me when I go home. If I had a hundred of them they would be worth at least a fiver to our visitors up thonder, who are as keen as mustard on sending the hares, with a pin stuck on them, to their lady friends across the sea."

Evidently the unique designs on our coins are highly appreciated across the Atlantic.

Well Chosen

I am told that the following story is not new, but I had not heard it until a few days ago:—

A typist was required at Whitehall recently, and competent typists being at a premium in Great Britain, it was decided to choose carefully. An expert on choosing typists proceeded in this manner:—

In a room he placed a small mangle, a sewing machine and a typewriter. The applicants for the post were summoned in, one by one, and the first girl to recognise the typewriter as such was appointed.

OBITUARY

PRECENTOR NORRIS

The death occurred last Saturday at Kilmacow Rectory, Waterford, of the Rev. David George Norris, M.A., Precentor of Ossory, Canon of Leighlin, in his eighty-third year. Educated at Trinity College, Dublin, he had been Chaplain of Maryborough Prison, and had ministered in various parts of Ireland, becoming Rural Dean of St. Canice in 1924 and Canon of Mayne in St. Canice's Cathedral, Kilkenny, in 1927.

PREBENDARY CARLILE

Prebendary Carlile, founder of the Church Army, died on Saturday at Woking, Surrey, three hours after the death of his brother, Sir Hildred Carlile, formerly M.P. for St. Albans, at Tunbridge Wells. Both died peacefully, and neither knew of the other's serious illness. The Prebendary, who was known as "The Archbishop of the Gutter," was 95, and his brother 90. Prebendary Carlile became seriously ill on Thursday. His brother had been an invalid for a number of years. Thousands of homeless men and women who have been down on their luck and have been helped by the Church Army will regret the death of its founder.

On his 90th birthday he received congratulations and good wishes from the King and Queen. His birthday gifts, from 90 farthings to 90 guineas, amounted to £20,000, and came from all parts of the Empire. He decided to use the money for a new hostel on the London outskirts for youths from the special areas.

SEAMEN ENTERTAINED

A group of seamen at the Sailors' Rest, North Wall, sang the Welsh National Anthem in Welsh on Saturday after they had enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. James Bowie, port missionary. The gathering had assembled to make a presentation to Mr. R. W. Jones, an official of the L.M.S., who recently was married. The presentation was made by Captain Roberts, of the L.M.S., and a congratulatory speech was made by Mr. Bowie.

DEATHS.

GRAHAM—September 27, 1942, Marian Graham, of 4 St. Mary's terrace, Galway. Funeral will take place from St. Nicholas's Collegiate Church, Galway, to-morrow (Tuesday), at 12 noon, to Killinane Churchyard.

LIVINGSTONE—September 16, 1942, at Sligo, Maria Livingstone, late of Carrowmena, Co. Derry, in her 91st year.

LOWE—September 26, 1942, at his residence, Curhowna, Carrick-on-Shannon, William Lowe. Office and High Mass this day (Monday) at St. Mary's, Carrick-on-Shannon, at 11 o'clock. Funeral at 3 o'clock to St. Mary's Cemetery.

METHODIST CHURCH COMMITTEE MEETINGS

The September half-yearly meetings of the principal Committees of the Methodist Church in Ireland were held last week in Dublin, and were largely attended, the President (the Rev. B. S. Lyons, Belfast) presiding. At the meeting of the officers of the different departments various improvement schemes were sanctioned, and grants were passed in connection therewith. The Overseas Missionary Committee cordially welcomed its new secretary, the Rev. R. A. Lockhart, B.A., and made a presentation to its retiring secretary, the Rev. Wesley G. Lee, of Lurgan. The newly-appointed Education Board of the Church held its first meeting and arranged its method of working. At the Post-war Reconstruction Committee representatives were present from all parts of Ireland. Two subcommittees were appointed—one for the four Northern Districts and the other for the Southern Districts—to investigate carefully the problems which will likely have to be met.

A luncheon of honour to Mr. T. St. John Bagnall, in recognition of his many years of service to the Methodist Church was given in the Shelbourne Hotel on the 23rd inst. Major A. W. Johnson, M.B.E., who presided, presented to Mr. Bagnall a beautifully illuminated address in album form containing the names of all the subscribers. A handsome handbag was presented to Mrs. Bagnall by Mrs. R. C. Booth. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bagnall replied.

Miss Saidie Laird, B.A., who for twenty-nine years has been a missionary in China, died in a concentration camp at Hong Kong. Miss Laird was the missionary of the Centenary Church, Dublin, where a largely-attended Memorial Service was held.

HEALTH OF DONEGAL

In the annual report of the County Medical Officer of Health for Donegal emphasis is laid upon the small number of deaths from diphtheria among immunised children. The report, as well as setting out statistical tables in relation to various diseases, has much useful matter on the control of ailments. Precautions against influenza are given, and articles appear on tuberculosis, housing, water supply, and other health subjects. The County School Medical Service is also treated of extensively.

DISTRESSED LADIES

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Irish Distressed Ladies' Fund was held at 6 Merrion square, Dublin, on Friday last, the Earl of Wicklow presiding. Pensions amounting to £62 12s. were sanctioned for October. The total amount authorised for grants to assist necessitous cases during the remainder of September and on 1st October amounted to £177 15s. 4d.

In Times Like These MORE PEOPLE TURN TO Newells

. . . Because NEWELLS' ACCENT-ON-VALUE is proverbial. You have the reassuring feeling that no matter how much or little you spend on your clothes, it is money well spent at Newells.
. . . Because WE ARE A FASHION CENTRE without going overboard about it and sacrificing everything else for the latest style whim. Fashions which are really smart and wearable interest us deeply, and our collections reflect this interest.
. . . Because IT IS EASY AND PLEASANT TO SHOP AT NEWELLS. You can buy fashion without searing your pocket-book for life. We believe good management is like good merchandise . . . simple and pleasing. Our advertising does not shriek unbelievable claims, improbable stories, endless "sales." Our salespeople are friendly and capable. We work on an unusually low margin of profit, and our prices show it—without emphasis from us.
. . . And so in times like these, when stress on fundamentals is doubly important, more and more people turn to Newell's OF GRAFTON STREET, Where "THE BEST FOR LESS" is the guiding policy.
